GRAFTON HOUNDS MAKE GREAT RUN

Cut Out a Lively Pace for a Field of Twentyeight.

RIDING WITH BROKEN BONES

Smith Keeps the Saddle With Injured Foot and Higgenson With Fractured Ribs.

(Special From a Staff Correspondent.) UPPERVILLE, VA., November 4.—The fourth day of the Grafton-Middlesex hounds' trials proved a great success for the Grafton hounds. There was sport a-plenty of a high order, and as Dr. McEachran, one of the judges, said, at the end of the run "hounds never ran so fast since the world began."

After trailing for exactly an hour a fox was jumped, and for an hour and a half hounds cut out such a lively pace for those who followed that out of a neld of twenty-eight only nine were able to live with them, and out of these nine several were fortunate rather than valiant. Only one lady followed the hounds throughout the day, and Mrs. Westmoreland Davis deserves the highest praise for the excellent manner in which she rode. Others who were in from start to finish were Mr. Westmoreland Davis, to finish were Mr. Westmoreland Davs. Mr. A. Henry Higginson, of Boston, master of Middlesex; Mr. Roster Dulaney, Mr. J. J. Garham, of New York, and Messrs. Charles McEachran, of Montreal; Fred, Oakle, of New York, and H. L. Movius. of Buffalo, the judges. Ham, one of the whips of the Gratton pack, mounted on a pony, by riding through byways and lanes, managed to be up with the hounds at the last.

A Broken Foot.

The master, Mr. Harry W. Smith, riding with a broken foot, was only a few minutes behind, and his performances throughout the day over rough country and across every jump by the flying field, showed a game sporting spirit, that was greatly appreciated. Mr. Smith had gone down hard twice on yesterday, and on arriving at "Oakley" last night began to suffer from a swollen foot. A doctor was summoned, who found it necessary to cut Mr. Smith's right boot from his leg, so swollen had the foot tecome.

It was discovered that a bone has been It was discovered that a bone has been broken, and Mr. Smith's physician directed that he should go to bed for a week or ten days. This he declined to do, saying that he would hunt if it killed him, and so to-day the master of Grafton hunt with his broken foot done in bandages and cased in a rubber boot. The serious accidents so far besides Mr. Smith's broken foot and Mr. Henry Higginson's two broken ribs and a bruiser. Smith's broken foot and air. Healy his-ginson's two broken ribs and a bruised knee, which does not prevent him, how-ever, from riding boildly to hounds, are Dr. William Lord Smith's broken collar bone, and Mrs. Rosier Dulaney's sprain-ed wrist.

Seven Falls.

There were seven falls recorded in the hunt to-day. Mr. Duffy fell over the first flight of ralls which were negotiated by the fleld. Ham, the colored whip, sailing across country on Mr. Smith's very clever pony, jumped a three foot stone wall only to find, when in mid air, that there was a five foot dron on the stone wall only to find, when in mid air, that there was a five foot drop on the other side, and he and pony rolled heels over head in a road below. Neither were injured. Mr. Smith, Mr. McEachran, Mr. Waller and Mr. Dulaney, all came to grief in scrambling up the high bank of a creek, and Mrs. Tom Pierce, of Boston, one of the best riders to hounds in America, solled her hunting coat when her grey hunter, "Tapps" put his front foot in a hidden drain. Every one is delighted with the day's hunt, and Mr. A. Henry Higginson, one of the few at the Henry Higginson, one of the few at the death, and master of rival pack, had only pleasant things to say regarding the excellent work done by the Grafton hounds.

The meet this morning was at Middleburg at 6:15 o'clock, which meant that those in Upperville neighborhood were up and on their way to the meet by half-past four. Stars were shining brightly as the faithful few journeyed towards Middleburg, and the sun had not arisen when hounds and horsemen had left the village behind them and were on their way to cover. Mr. Harry W. Smith, despite his unfortunate accident, hunted his bounds, but Mr. Mulbon Itlehardson, of Borton, først wap of the hunt, took hounds to meet and on to cover.

The Strenuous Life.

The Strenuous Life.

The strenuous life of rising at half-past three or four o'clock in the morning, riding six or eight miles to meet, hunting until midday and riding slowly fitten or twenty miles home is grad-ually causing the field to 'grow smaller,

Mrs. Laudenburg, of New York; Mr, and Mrs. Grafton Abbott, of Boston; Miss Lemon, of Virginia; Mr. and Mrs. Westmoreland Davis, of Leesburg; Mr. A. Henry Higginson, master of Middlesex hounds; Mr. Julian Chamberlain, of Boston; Mr. L. D. Ahl, of Boston; Mr. Harry W. Smith, Mr. Malbon Richardson, of Boston; Mr. Paul Whitin, of Whitin, Mass.; Mr. Allen Potts, of Virginia; Dr. Charles McEachran of Montreal; Mr. Haliam L. Movius, of Buffalo; Mr. Rosier Dulaney, of Virginia; Mr. W. T. Lawson, of Virginia; Mr. R. B. Lawson, of Virginia; Mr. R. B. Lawson, of Virginia; Mr. Pierre, of New York; Mr. S. S. Rossell, of Virginia; Mr. Bolling Haxall, of Virginia; Mr. D. M. Waller, of Virginia; Mr. Richard Barrett, of Concord, Mass.; Mr. Fred. Okle, of New York; Mr. J. J. Graham, of New York; Hon. Henry Fairfax, of Virginia, The Hunt.

Hounds were cast into cover on the Frank farm near the Marble Juarry, not far from Hog Back Mountum, Within three minutes a whimper from "Sinner" told the story that a trail had been found, but so cold it was that hounds soon abandoned it. Continuing along Goose Creek, hounds again began to speak at $250 and trailing well across the valley and over the high hills, got up a red fox at $250 on Wildman's farm, ybout two miles from Aldie. The sight was inspiring, and Hose who found points of advantage on high hill that overlooked few stationed on the hills that over few stationed on the hills that overlooked Goose Creek, three times viewed the fox as it dodged from cover to cover. I wice the willy quarry swam the swiftly running water of Goose Creek, only to be followed relentlessly by the pursuing pack not more than three minutes behind. Anding that dodging was useless, the good old fox took a line across country that tried the stamina of the hounds and almost broke the hearts of the horses, Running down a high hill in full view of a number of the field, lie burst into the open lands, out through the Harrison estate, towards the Pot

he burst into the open lands, out through the Harrison estate, towards the Pothouse road, and gave the field of cross country riders a run that they will not soon forget.

Mr. Rosler Dulancy, a bold young horseman, well mounted, essayed for a full half mile to keep pace with the hounds, only to fall behind. A dozen others tried the same game, and all gave up in despair, some taking the short cuts by which nine hard riders, out of a field of twenty-eight, alone saw the hounds, check. At a tumbled-down house a field of twenty-eight, alone saw the hounds check. At a tumbled-down house six miles north of Middleburg on the Pot House Road, the hounds were cast again and again around this old house without success, and finally it was decided that the fox had gone to earth beneath the foundation, and so the hounds were called off and sent away fifteen miles to Grafton kennels.

Good Enough

Good Enough

Mr. Snith, master of the Grafton, had this morning given notice that he would hunt to-day until sunset, but Dr. McEuchran, of Montreal, one of the judges, Euchran, of Montreal, one of the judges, said to him after the run: "Your hounds could not go better. You had better let well enough alone." Mr. Smith took his advice and called the run off. Each pack hias now been out twice each, has frawn a "blank day," and each has furnished a good run.

It is in the province of the judges to decide which pack furnished the better run, but as under the conditions of the rulings the "kill" alone is to be a basis of judging, the day will only be counted probably one on which the American hounds furnished excellent sport.

Both the Middlesex and Grafton packs have each five days more of hunting before the trials end.

West End Church Bazaar Closed Last Night After Successful

BODY TO BE SHIPPED HOME

Another Bazaar to Be Held. Especial Services in Central Church To-day.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, } No. 1102 Huli Street.

The bazaar which has been going or this week by the ladies of West-End Methodist Episcopal Church, closed last right with a good and enthusiastic rally ing of those interested in the welfare of the church and the parsonage fund, which is being raised for the erection of a handsome new parsonage for the pastor. The people were not disappointed in not having a programme. The pro gramme was short, consisting mainly of singing, but the well known power of those who sang solos or united in duets, did not fail last night to charm the audience to uproarious applause. Miss Florence Moore rendered a solo with good effect, and was recalled with a chorous of encores. Miss Sarah Redford and Miss Moore united in a duet, which was heartly received.

As it was the last night, all the leftover articles were sold at auction, and all the prizes to those who had worked hard and faithfully in raising money for the benefit of the fund, were awarded. To Mrs. Lillian Crump, who, on a short notice, succeeded in raising S, was awarded a handsome and costly silver tray. To Miss Ida Butler, who has been a central figure in the management and success of the bazaar, was given a handsome jardiniere. Miss Florence, who has likewise done good work for the entertainment of the audience each night, was presented with a fine parlor lamp. To Miss Sarah Redford was given a ring,
Miss Cecil Clark, a ring, Mrs. Lottis
Henry, a rocking chair; Miss Burma Redford, a rocker; Mrs. Rookman, a rocker; little Miss. Rosa Lee Bennett, a doli; Mrs. Mitchell, a quilt; Mrs.
Raines, a ring, and to Rev. J. T.
Routten, an umbrella.

The proceeds of the bazaar came up to the anticipation of the ladies of the church, and the committee which had the affair in charge wish to extend their thanks to the public for its hearty support of the cause.
